DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For President,
WOODROW WILSON, of New Jersey
For Vice President,
THOS. R. MARSHALL, of Indiana.

FOR CONGRESS.

We are authorized to announce the candidacy of

W. J. FIELDS, of Carter County, for Representative in Congress from the Ninth district, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

Turner For Appellate Judge.

Many Democrats of Lawrence county have been inquiring this week about the candidates for the Democratic nomination for Appellate Judge to be voted for at the primary on Saturday of this week at each voting place in the entire district. Under the usual political practice and courtesy the Democrats of this county would vote for Hon. C. C. Turner, of Mt. Sterling, because he lives in the 9th congressional district. His opponent, Mr. Hayes, lives in the 8th district.

In following the usual course and supporting Mr. Turner no mistake will be made. He is a high class lawyer and gentleman. For six years he was official reporter for the Court of Appeals, an experience that especially fits him for the position he seeks.

Editor Meacham, of the Hoptown Kentuckian, made a successful flight in a flying machine recently. He can now tell us how it feels to be up in the air.

Miss Vanda Lee Burns, a young stenographer, fell to her death through a third-story skylight at the First Christian church Louisville, last Friday afternoon. She had gone to the roof to view the city from that point.

The only contest in the primary election on Saturday of this week is for the Democratic nomination for Appellate Judge. Mr. Turner is a 9th district man and is entitled to our votes as against a man from another district. It is good politics.

The latest addition to our collection of verbal misfits, such as "funeral obsequies," "present incumbent," "and also" and similar monstrosities, is "lucrative salary." This comes from Lexington, the Athens of the Blue Grass, and was found in a recent number of the Leader.

The State Board of Election Commissioners is now made up. Gov. McCreary having appointed Judge S. W. Hager, of Owensboro, Democrat, and Col. John T. Shelby, of Lexington, Republican, who with Clerk of the Court of Appeals R. L. Greene, constitute the commission, which has supervision of the election machinery.

Mutsuhito, forty-four years Emperor of Japan, died July 30, shortly after midnight. Yoshiko succeeded his father as Emperor, under the formula provided by the Constitution promulgated by Mutsuhito. The death of the Emperor is greatly mourned by his people, that ruler being credited with having brought about Japan's entree as one of the first-class nations.

State Inspector and Examiner Sherman Goodpastor submitted to the Governor today his report on the inspection of county records in Lawrence county. As a result of the work of his department there the rowhouse fields in and around Helfrom county officials.

Separate reports concerning the enforcement of sentences against "pistol toters" and persons guilty of misdemeanors is being prepared on all the counties.

The Inspector filed a report on Floyd county with the Governor showing $296.24 due the State from the officers of that county.

Dillon, the regular Republican nominee for Governor in Ohio, has withdrawn from the race because a Roosevelt State ticket is to be nominated and he felt there would be no chance for his election. In West Virginia it is said Dr. Hatfield will relinquish the Republican nomination for Governor if a like situation should develop.

The Bull Moose party in West Virginia has organized and named delegates to the national convention. The delegates from the fifth district and the state at large are as follows:

Fifth—D. J. F. Strother, McDowell; Fred W. Pearce, Putnam. Delegates at Large—D. B. Smith, Cabell county; C. A. Swearingen, Wood; S. G. Smith, Ohio; Dr. O. B. Beer, Upshur; Dr. J. P. Fitch, Monongahela; E. G. Pierson, Fayette, and John C. Glimmer, colored, Kanawha.

Without opposition Mr. Harry Bailey, of Cynthiana, will receive the republican nomination for Congress in this district. Congressman Fields, who has an admirable record and is a first-class man, will have no opposition for the Democratic nomination. The district is heavily Democratic and Mr. Fields will be re-elected without much effort. The vote in a presidential year is always larger than in off years, and both parties profit about equally. Mr. Bailey is an excellent gentleman and will no doubt be proud to be walloped by so excellent gentleman as Mr. Fields. As Gov. Wilson is going to wallopp President Taft, and also former-President Roosevelt, if he runs, Mr. Bailey will be able, we have no doubt to borrow some armica—Cynthiana Democrat.

The ovens will be ready within six months, it is said. Other coal companies are developing the Mar-

KENTUCKY.

As it is Described by George Fitch in One of His "Vest Pocket Essays."

Kentucky is one of the warmest American States, not only climatically, but politically. It is situated just south of the healthy repartee belt and is separated from Ohio, Indiana and Illinois by the Ohio river, which is often swum by minority delegates in Kentucky caucuses.

Kentucky is shaped like a suffragette shoe, and is of medium size, about a No. 9 on an E last. It was settled by Daniel Boone with the aid of a long rifle in 1769, and the Daniel Boone method of settlement is still plausibly maintained in most parts of the State in all important questions.

Kentucky is a wonderfully fertile region, and huge crops are raised whenever the inhabitants have time. The State is full of fast horses, beautiful women, fine whiskey and red hot men. It has only 2,200,000 inhabitants, but it could have had 5,000,000 if the early Kentuckian had been water-jacketed and kept below a shooting temperature. Men kill each other over politics in Tennessee and over cards in Texas, and as a recreation in Chicago, but in Kentucky crops, politics and family quarrels are all fatal. The result is that in some districts the Kentuckian who dies in bed with his boots off is sat upon by the corner, who tries to find the reason.

Kentucky raises more tobacco than any other State, when the night rider doesn't ride. The night rider is a sort of human boll weevil which gets into the crops and ruins them with a hoe. It travels in crowds and is brave and fearless wherever its opponent is unarmed. The feud is another Kentucky disease which has put a sad camp in to population. The feud flourishes in the mountains of eastern Kentucky, where the railroad and the public library do not intrude, and is a sort of a four-generation family quarrel conducted with shotguns. When one feudist meets another feudist in a narrow alley and the second feudist refuses to sidetrack the first feudist shoots him. Then the son of the feudist of the second part shoots the feudist of the first part, and the nephew of the feudist of the first part shoots the son and second cousin of the feudist of the second part and the brother-in-law and uncle by marriage of the feudist of the second part catch the nephew and grandson and sister and cousin by marriage of the feudist of the first part at church and fill them so full of lead that they have to be taken home on a truck. Taking the census in Breathitt county by piece-work is a poor-house job.

Kentucky has many fine old cities and beautiful plantations. It is noted for its sunshine, its moonshine, its blue grass and its red noses, its mint juleps and its whisky. Making taxed whisky is a business in Kentucky and making untaxed whisky is a recreation.

There are many mountains in Kentucky, but only one volcano—Colonel Watterson of the Louisville Courier-Journal.

Following The Killing Of Bailey.

The examining trial of Denna Saylor was held before Judge Saylor Monday. He was acquitted and many who heard the evidence think that he will leave the county before Circuit Court convenes. He had been put in jail on a warrant as being an accomplice to the murder of Mack Bailey.

The Sheriff of Johnson county delivered Nelson Collins, who is said to have assisted Bud Collins in making his escape, to the local authorities Wednesday. He waived the examining trial, filled a bond of $1,000 and returned home.

Bud Collins, who shot and instantly killed Mack Bailey July 7th, is still at large with no clue as to his whereabouts.

Taylor Bailey, father of Mack Bailey, placed fifty dollars in the Salyersville Bank as a reward for Collins, and we are informed as we go to press that Gov. McCreary has offered $200 additional, making a $250 reward for Collins—Salyersville Mountaineer.

WELL DESERVED.

The Praise That Comes From Thankful Louisa People.

One kidney remedy has known merit.

Louisa people rely upon it.

That remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills.

Louisa testimony proves it reliable.

William G. Shannon, Maple St., Louisa, Ky., says: "When I hear of anyone having kidney trouble I always advise the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. I am glad to confirm the testimonial I gave in 1909 when I told of the benefit Doan's Kidney Pills brought me. For years I had been a sufferer from pains through my back and I had difficulty in straightening after stooping. At night I was restless and when I arose in the morning I was tired. My kidney action was also irregular. Finally I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they gave me entire relief. The kidney action became regular and the pains and aches left."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

To Teachers and Trustees.

Many teachers and trustees, in spite repeated explanations, as to the manner of securing books for indigent children, keep sending their orders in a shape that they can't be filled. REMEMBER, that you MUST state the names of children's parents or guardians, and you should state definitely the names and ages of each child and the books each child requires. Resp'y, JAY O'DANIEL.

WILL RESTOCK THE STATE WITH DEER.

The following press notice is sent out from Frankfort:

"Kentucky is to be restocked with deer. This announcement was made by the Game and Fish Commission. Work of restocking with deer will begin this fall. The commission fixed the salary of the executive agent at $2,500 a year, and J. Q. Ward, of Paris has been appointed. As soon as it can be determined if the terms of the commission are satisfactory to men selected as Game Wardens appointments will be made.
